

FIVE ILLINOIS HIGH SCHOOLS RECOGNIZED AS DEMOCRACY SCHOOLS

Preparing Young People for Informed, Effective Engagement in Our Democracy

CHICAGO, September 17, 2013— The Illinois Civic Mission Coalition (ICMC) has recognized five exceptional Illinois high schools as Democracy Schools, for providing students with authentic experiences with the rights, responsibilities and tensions inherent in living in a constitutional democracy. Through these experiences, participating schools strive to equip students with the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary for informed and effective engagement in our democracy.

Since 2006, 22 Illinois high schools have successfully completed a school-wide civic assessment and have been subsequently recognized as Democracy Schools. The five high schools that have earned this distinction in 2013 include:

- Carbondale Community High School, Carbondale, IL
- John Hancock College Prep High School, Chicago, IL
- Josephinum Academy, Chicago, IL
- Maine East High School, Park Ridge, IL
- Adlai E. Stevenson High School, Lincolnshire, IL

The new Democracy Schools will receive a stipend from the Robert R. McCormick Foundation, which convenes the ICMC, to invest in high quality civic learning initiatives, as well as a banner for public display. Each high school will also receive a certificate signed by Chairman of the Illinois State Board of Education, Gery Chico, Chief Justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, Thomas L. Kilbride, and the schools' state legislators.

“The availability of high-quality, school-based civic learning opportunities for all Illinois students are vital to a thriving democracy,” said Shawn Healy, chair of the Illinois Civic Mission Coalition and civic learning and engagement scholar at the McCormick Foundation, a leading funder of civic learning initiatives. “The committed students, teachers, administrators, and school board members of these five schools should be commended for living their civic mission and joining the growing ranks of Illinois Democracy Schools.”

Illinois Democracy Schools embrace the mission to provide high-quality civic learning opportunities for all students. Their leadership emphasizes civic learning through development of professional faculty and staff capacity, and proven civic learning practices are woven throughout the formal curriculum. Democracy Schools foster a school climate that nurtures and models civic dispositions and builds reciprocal relationships within the surrounding community.

Democracy Schools provide numerous opportunities for students to participate in the democratic process through a range of classes and clubs. From class discussion on current issues and democratic simulations to extracurricular and service learning opportunities, students are able to experience first-hand the critical role they can play in shaping their government and society.
